• These allow the tenant to pay somewhat less than the market rate for an apartment. These apartments have requirements about income.
• These apartments may have a waiting list. Contact the apartment manager to complete an application.

Market Rate (M)
• These apartments charge whatever the market will bear compared to other units in that county or part of the city.

Disabled Individuals (D)

General Questions to Consider When Looking for New Rental Housing

1. Do I want or need to live near family or friends?

2. Do I need supportive services, such as, assistance with eating, bathing, grooming?

3. Does the apartment or facility have access to public transportation or on-site parking?

4. What are the pet policies? Is there an extra fee for pets?

5. Will I have access to shopping, banking or pharmacies?

6. Will I have access to community facilities such as hospitals, doctors or other medical professionals?

7. Is the apartment or facility in a safe neighborhood, or does it have a security service?

8. What is the cost of living there? Are additional services added onto the cost?

9. Can the facility meet all of my needs or only some?

10. Is my family supportive of my decision?
Senior Apartments

Apartments for seniors have a minimum age limit, usually 55, 62, or 65. Some of them will also accept someone younger who has a disability. A list of central Ohio apartments for lower income older and disabled individuals can be found on pages 3-17 this guide.

Many apartments for seniors and disabled individuals have a person working onsite of the apartments called a “Service Coordinator.” This person is usually not an employee of the apartment company but typically is from a non-profit agency in the community. This person can assist residents in arranging for community-based services and benefits.

Central Ohio Retirement Campuses (CCRC)

These offer a grouping of housing facilities for older adults with multiple levels of living options, which may include: independent, assisted living, skilled and intermediate nursing care. Residents may or may not pay an endowment fee to obtain services to suit their changing needs. Some of these are called Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRCs). There are three basic types of contracts for CCRCs:

- Life Care or Extended Contract: This is the most expensive option; but offers unlimited assisted living, medical treatment, and skilled nursing care without additional charges.
- Modified Contract: This contract offers a set of services provided for a set length of time. When that time is expired, other services can be obtained, but for higher monthly fees.
- Fee-for-Service Contract: The initial enrollment fee may be lower, but assisted living and skilled nursing will be paid for at their market rates.

It is very important to review each option as well as the long-term financial plan to support them. Often, charges above and beyond the entrance cost and monthly fees arise. Ensure that everyone understands just how much money will be needed to support this housing option. Also, make sure the facility being considered will be financially viable over the long term. Get assurance that 10 to 15 years down the road the CCRC will still be operating and able to provide the care that has already been purchased.

The COAAA Central Ohio Long Term Care & Hospice Guide has a listing of Retirement communities in it. Please request a hard copy of this guide from the COAAA (614-645-7250) or download it from the website at www.coaaa.org.

- Residential State Supplement (RSS) Program—Provides financial assistance to adults with disabilities who can live in eligible community housing. The person must be in an institutional setting at least 90 days and meet other eligibility criteria. PART 3:
OWNING A HOUSE OR CONDO

Preventing Foreclosure

- The first thing to do is to contact the mortgage lender and let them know about problems, such as medical needs or a job loss. Some lenders will work with you to help prevent foreclosure.
- There are programs available to help.
  - The Columbus Urban League (CUL) is a HUD-approved housing counseling agency. Their website is www.cul.org and the phone number is 614-257-6300 ext. 300.
  - HOMEPORT is another; the website is www.homeportohio.org and the phone number is 614-221-8889.
  - Homes on the Hill, 3659 Soldano Blvd., Columbus, OH 43228. Their website is www.hoth-cdc.org and their phone is 614-275-4663.
- The website for the U.S. Housing and Urban Development agency, www.HUD.gov, has information on government programs including:
  - Making Home Affordable
  - Home Affordable Modification Program
  - Principal Reduction Alternative
  - Second Lien Modification Program

Homestead Exemption in Ohio

- The homestead exemption allows low-income senior citizens and permanently and totally disabled Ohioans, to reduce their property tax bills, by shielding some of the market value of their homes from taxation. The exemption, which takes the form of a credit on property tax bills, allows qualifying homeowners to exempt up to $25,000 of the market value of their homes from all local property taxes. For example, through the homestead exemption, a home with a market value of $100,000 is billed as if it is worth $75,000.
- The exact amount of savings varies from location to location. The tax exemption is limited to the homestead, which Ohio law defines as an owner’s dwelling and up to one acre of land. The value of the exemption may not exceed the value of the homestead.
- To apply, complete the application form (DTE 105A, Homestead Exemption Application Form for Senior Citizens, Disabled Persons, and Surviving Spouses), then file it with the local county auditor. The form is available on the Department of Taxation’s website (www.tax.ohio.gov) and is also available from the county auditor’s office.
Reverse Mortgages

- Reverse mortgages are loans that allow homeowners aged 62 and over to convert home equity (the amount they have paid into their home) into cash and to keep living at home for as long as they want. According to the National Council on Aging (NCOA), a reverse mortgage can help older adults make ends meet and stay independent, but they are not for everyone.

- The 2013 version of “Use Your Home to Stay at Home” is a helpful tool for decision-making related to reverse mortgages. The guide can be downloaded for free at www.ncoa.org/RMBooklet.

- Before getting a reverse mortgage, it is wise to get counseling from a government-approved agency. NCOA is one of nine approved counseling agencies. They will help someone:
  - Evaluate the pros and cons of a reverse mortgage for each situation.
  - Apply for public and private benefits that can help pay for needs like home energy, meals, and medications.
  - Find services in your community that can help someone stay independent longer.

Universal Design

- Universal Design makes homes safer, easier and more convenient to live in for everyone of any age or ability. It involves having products and spaces that can be used by the widest range of people possible. There is a wide spectrum of human abilities. Everyone, even the most able-bodied person, passes through childhood, periods of temporary illness, injury and old age.

- Whether someone is building a new home, or repairing or renovating an existing home, anyone can incorporate, through home modification, characteristics of universal design. Home modification can vary from building a new home with universally designed features, to simple installation of lever door knobs on an older home to more complex structural changes in an existing home, such as installing a walk-in shower or an accessible ramp. The goal of home modification for existing homes is not to entirely redesign the home but to make a range of changes or repairs that result in the home being a comfortable, user-friendly, and safer place to live.

- Websites with Information:
  - www.homemods.org. A website out of University of Southern California’s Andrus School. It is rich with information about home modifications and universal design information for people with disabilities.

  - Downloadable Fact Sheets:
    - A Home Fall Prevention Checklist for Older Adults, www.cdc.gov.
