Renting or Leasing Apartments

General Questions to Consider When Looking for Rental Housing:

1. Do I want or need to live near family or friends?

2. Do I need supportive services, such as, assistance with eating, bathing, or grooming? Will I have access to these services from this apartment?

3. Does the apartment or facility have access to public transportation or on-site parking?

4. What are the pet policies? Is there an extra fee for pets?

5. Will I have access to shopping, banking, or pharmacies?

6. Will I have access to community facilities, such as, hospitals, doctors or other medical professionals?

7. Is the apartment or facility in a safe neighborhood, or does it have a security service?

8. What is the cost of living there? Are additional services/utilities added onto the cost?

9. Can the facility meet all of my needs or only some?

10. Is my family supportive of my decision?

NOTES:

Apartments for Seniors and Individuals with Disabilities:

- Apartments for seniors have a minimum age limit, usually 55, 62, or 65. Some of them will also accept someone younger who has a disability.

- A list of central Ohio apartments for lower income older and disabled individuals can be found on pages 5-19 of this guide. This list does not include HUD apartments for families. For a list of HUD apartments, contact the Columbus HUD Office directly at 614-469-5737

- These apartment communities are generally stand alone and not part of a larger retirement campus.

- Most of these apartment communities do have waiting lists so it is best to get information and apply to be on a waiting list if a person qualifies.

- Many apartments for seniors and disabled individuals have a person working onsite of the apartments called a "Service Coordinator." This person is usually not an employee of the apartment company, but typically is from a non-profit agency in the community. This person can assist residents in arranging for community-based services and benefits.

These apartments come in a variety of types and they are described below:

Federally Subsidized Communities (HUD Section 202)

- These allow the renter to pay approximately 30% of their income towards rent. These apartments have requirements about the amount of income and most of them discount medical expenses when calculating the rent.
- The rent on these apartments DOES include utilities.
- Most will accept small pets—please ask.
- Contact the apartment manager to complete an application.

Tax Credit Communities

- These allow the tenant to pay somewhat less than the market rate for an apartment. These apartments have requirements about income.
- The rent on these apartments DOES NOT include utilities.
- Most will accept small pets—please ask.
- Contact the apartment manager to complete an application.

Market Rate Communities

- These apartments charge whatever the market will bear compared to other units in that county or part of the city.
- The rent on these apartments DOES NOT include utilities.
- Most will accept small pets—please ask.
- Contact the apartment manager to complete an application.

Other Resources for Renters

Central Ohio Retirement Campuses (CCRC)

These offer a grouping of housing facilities for older adults with multiple levels of living options, which may include: independent, assisted living, skilled,and intermediate nursing care. Residents may or may not pay an endowment fee to obtain services to suit their changing needs. Some of these are called Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRCs). There are three basic types of contracts for CCRCs:

- Life Care or Extended Contract: This is the most expensive option; but this option offers unlimited assisted living, medical treatment, and skilled nursing care without additional charges.

- Modified Contract: This contract offers a set of services provided for a set length of time. When that time is expired, other services can be obtained, but for higher monthly fees.

- Fee-for-Service Contract: The initial enrollment fee may be lower, but assisted living and skilled nursing will be paid for at their market rates.

It is very important to review each option as well as the long-term financial plan to support them. Often, charges above and beyond the entrance cost and monthly fees arise. Ensure that everyone understands just how much money will be needed to support this housing option. Also, make sure the facility being considered will be financially viable over the long term. Get assurance that 10 to 15 years down the road the CCRC will still be operating and able to provide the care that has already been purchased.

The COAAA Central Ohio Long Term Care & Hospice Guide has a listing of different levels of housing that offer services and supports for people. Please request a hard copy of this guide from the COAAA (614-645-7250) or download it from the website at www.coaaa.org.

Programs for Those with Mental Health or Substance Abuse Disorder

- Residential State Supplement (RSS) Program—provides financial assistance to adults with disabilities who can live in eligible community housing. The person must be enrolled in Medicaid and receiving Social Security, SSI or SSDI. The RSS benefit helps pay for accommodations, supervision, and personal care services. For more information or to apply, call 614-752-9316 or visit www.mha.ohio.gov/RSS.

- Recovery Requires a Community Program—assists people diagnosed with mental illness to move to and remain in community housing. It pays for goods & services not covered by other funding programs. For more information or to apply, call 614-466-9985 or visit www.mha.ohio.gov/RRA.

- Home Choice—provides assistance with moving into the community from a long-term care setting. The person must be in an institutional setting at least 60 days and meet other eligibility criteria. Some areas of assistance include: locating housing, setting up a household, and connecting to necessary goods and services. For information or to apply, call 888-221-1560 or visit www.medicaid.ohio.gov/HomeChoice.

Housing Choice Vouchers (HUD Section 8)

- Vouchers provide housing assistance for very low-income families, elderly persons, and people with disabilities, allowing them to live in safe, quality, affordable housing in the private market. Participants are able to find their own housing, including single-family homes, townhouses, or apartments in neighborhoods of their choice. The owner of the property has the choice to participate or not in this program.

- Most counties have an extremely long waiting list for a voucher. To be added to the waiting list, contact the Metropolitan Housing Authority in your county. (See list above).

Nesterly Central Ohio

- Nesterly is an online platform which matches hosts (homeowners who have a room to rent) and guests for a homesharing arrangement of at least 1 month or longer.
- Nesterly offers a platform which background checks both parties, helps to negotiate a lease, and arranges for automated payments.
- Allows both parties to customize what an ideal homeshare arrangement looks like for each person and allows for a task exchange for a simple reduction in rent.
- For more information visit www.nesterly.com.

Housing Issues for Veterans

- Veterans and families requiring assistance finding or keeping safe, affordable housing can access services for homeless veterans and their families by contacting the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Homeless Veterans Assistance Center. Services include: Opportunities to return to employmentsafe housing, health care, and mental health services.

- In order to qualify for this program someone must be a Veteran or dependent of a Veteran. Additionally, the person must be homeless, at risk of becoming homeless, or unable to obtain safe, affordable housing. While only veterans and their families may receive assistance, anyone may call the hotline or chat online with a VA specialist on behalf of a Veteran.

- No application is required to call the National Call Center for Homeless Veterans hotline or chat online with a VA specialist. Both the hotline and online chat service are available 24 hours a day. Call the hotline at: 877-424-3838 or chat online at: www.veteranscrisisline.net.

- The local housing intake line is 614-257-5499. A veteran does not need to be connected to the VA for healthcare to access housing assistance.

Owning A House or Condo

Preventing Foreclosure

- The first thing to do is to contact the mortgage lender and let them know about problems, such as medical needs or a job loss. Some lenders will work with you to help prevent foreclosure.

- There are programs available to help:

  - The Columbus Urban League (CUL) is a HUD- approved housing counseling agency. Their website is www.cul.org and the phone number is 614-257-6300 ext. 300.

  - HOMEPORT is another; the website is www.homeportohio.org and the phone number is 614-221-8889.

  - Homes on the Hill, 3659 Soldano Blvd., Columbus, OH 43228. Their website is www.hoth-cdc.org and their phone is 614-275-4663.

- The website for the U.S. Housing and Urban Development agency, www.HUD.gov, has information on government programs including:

  - Making Home Affordable
  - Home Affordable Modification Program
  - Principal Reduction Alternative
  - Second Lien Modification Program

Homestead Exemption in Ohio

- The homestead exemption allows low-income senior citizens and permanently and totally disabled Ohioans to reduce their property tax bills by shielding some of the market value of their homes from taxation. The exemption, which takes the form of a credit on property tax bills, allows qualifying homeowners to exempt up to $26,200 of the market value of their homes from all local property taxes. For example, through the homestead exemption, a home with a market value of $100,000 is billed as if it is worth $73,800. There is also an enhanced deduction for disabled veterans or the survivors of those killed in the line of public duty.

- The exact amount of savings varies from location to location. The tax exemption is limited to the homestead, which Ohio law defines as an owner's dwelling and up to one acre of land. The value of the exemption may not exceed the value of the homestead.

- To apply, complete the application form (DTE 105A, Homestead Exemption Application Form for Senior Citizens, Disabled Persons, and Surviving Spouses), then file it with the local county auditor. The form is available on the Department of Taxation's website (www.tax.ohio.gov) and is also available from the county auditor's office.

Reverse Mortgages

- Reverse mortgages are loans that allow homeowners aged 62 and over to convert home equity (the amount they have paid into their home) into cash and to keep living at home for as long as they want. According to the National Council on Aging (NCOA), a reverse mortgage can help older adults make ends meet and stay independent, but they are not for everyone.

- The 2021 version of "Use Your Home to Stay at Home" is a helpful tool for decision-making related to reverse mortgages. The guide can be downloaded for free at www.ncoa.org.

- Before getting a reverse mortgage, it is wise to get counseling from a government-approved agency. NCOA is one of nine approved counseling agencies. They will help someone:

  o Evaluate the pros and cons of a reverse mortgage for each situation.

  o Apply for public and private benefits that can help pay for needs such as home energy, meals, and medications.

  o Find services in your community that can help someone stay independent longer.

Universal Design

- Universal Design makes homes safer, easier and more convenient to live in for everyone of any age or ability. It involves having products and spaces that can be used by the widest range of people possible. There is a wide spectrum of human abilities. Everyone, even the most able-bodied person, passes through childhood, periods of temporary illness, injury and old age.

- Whether someone is building a new home, or repairing or renovating an existing home, anyone can incorporate, through home modification, characteristics of universal design. Home modification can vary from building a new home with universally designed features, to simple installation of lever door knobs on an older home to more complex structural changes in an existing home, such as installing a walk-in shower or an accessible ramp. The goal of home modification for existing homes is not to entirely redesign the home but to make a range of changes or repairs that result in the home being a comfortable, user- friendly, and safer place to live.

Websites with Information:

- www.homemods.org: A website out of University of Southern California's Andrus School. It is rich with information about home modifications and universal design information for people with disabilities.

Downloadable Fact Sheets:

- A Home Fall Prevention Checklist for Older Adults, www.cdc.gov.

- Homefit Guides, www.aarp.org.

NOTES:

Home Repair and Maintenance Assistance

- Government-funded programs for home repairs typically require the home to be:
  - o Owner-occupied
  - o Single-family
- Current on mortgage payments and property taxes
- Assistance may be limited to certain geographic areas
- Programs typically only assist with essential repairs or modifications for accessibility. Most programs exclude cosmetic repair.
- Contact the program to learn about all eligibility requirements, and the type of repairs permitted. A list of programs by county is below:
